Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was in the kitchen making crullers and I was standing in the kitchen door admiring the smell and ma sed, How can I work with you standing there sniffing like a steam engine, go on out and get some air.

Wich I did, not feeling like starting a argewment with ma wen there was crullers in the house and puds Simkins was setting on his frant steps and I went over and sat on them with him, saying, My mothers making crullers.

G. is she? sed Puds. And pritty soon he sed, Hay I tell you lets wat, let go into a wacky pardnersship, sippose everything I get good to eat I give you half and everything you get you wacky up with me.

All rite, Im willing, thats a go, I sed thinking, G. hermy, he's always gets fine stuff to eat. And Puds sed, About how many crullers is she making about?

O, a lot I don't know, maybe about 50, maybe about 100, I sed.

Wich jest then the Simkins cook came out to the frant door saying, Heer, your mother sent these out to you. And she gave Puds 2 cookies and a apple and went in agen, me saying, G. Im elad we made up that wacky pard-nership.

Me too, wen shall we start? sed Puds.

How do you meen, wat do you meen, we have started, I sed and puds sed, Like fun e have, I did-ent say wen I was going to start.

Well lets start rite now, I sed, and he sed, Aw no not rite now, And he only eave me one bite of apple and no bite of cookie on account of saying its too hard to take a small bite. And Iwent home to see if the crullers was done, wich they was, and ma give me and I went out on the frant steps to eat them hoping Puds would come over and try to start the wacky pardnership.

Wich he didnt, on account of probably not wanting to give me the satisfaction of saying no.

West Burke

The choir of the West Burke Methodist church and their assistants, who gave the cantata, "The First Christmas," Sunday evening, have reason to feel proud of their work. The chorus parts were all good, and many of the solos, etc., gave much pleasure. The Chris-mas Lullaby, sung by Mrs. Bertha Roudy, with a violin obligato played by Derward Newman, was one of the gems of the performance, and the solo, Bethlehem, sung by Miss Dorothy Newman, was also very good, as was the duet the Song and the Star, by Mrs. Mary Fairbrother and Mrs.
Rose Kendrick. The offering received more than covered the cost of the music, which was very gratifying. Mrs. Annie Fairbrother at the piano, added much to the rendering of the music, by her skillful interpretation of the composer's thought, and the singers appreciate her faithfulness during the weeks of rehearsing. We need more good music, and we shall hope to have other and still better programs to offer in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Dean and daughter Pauline, are spending a few days in New York City.
Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Roudy had a very happy family party at their home on Christmas day. Their guests were Miss Laila Roudy of Deep River, Conn. Dr. Dale Atwood and family Mr. and Mrs. F.

A. Townsend, of St. Johnsbury.
This completed the family circle, which has never yet been broken.
The three daughters and one son, Dale, presented their father with a handsome watch, and their mother was also generously remembered.

Newark

There was a well filled church
